INTRODUCTION

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo signed the 'Say Their Name' Reform Agenda package following the killing of George Floyd and an ongoing pattern of police brutality against minority communities across the nation. These landmark policing reforms will help reduce inequality in policing and reimagine the state's criminal justice system. New York State Police Reform and Reinvention Collaborative offered more guidance to communities. To rebuild the police-community relationship, each local government must convene stakeholders for a fact-based and honest dialogue about the public safety needs of their community. Each community must envision for itself the appropriate role of the police. Policies must be developed to allow the police to do their jobs to protect the public and these policies must meet with the local communities' acceptance.

"Collaborative" is the key word. It would be a mistake to frame these discussions as an adversarial process or an effort to impose top-down solutions. Issues must be aired but solutions must be crafted. The collaborative process should:

- Review the needs of the community served by its police agency and evaluate the department's current policies and practices.
- Establish policies that allow police to perform their duties effectively and safely.
- Involve the entire community in the discussion.
- Develop policy recommendations resulting from this review.
- Offer a plan for public comment.
- Present the plan to the local legislative body to ratify or adopt it.
- Certify adoption of the plan to the State Budget Director on or before April 1, 2021.

LOCKPORT INTRODUCTION

Over the past year and a half, we have made inroads in our policing policies, but need to continue the conversation and update policies that will impact the culture within the department, its officers, and our community at large.

POLICE BOARD

The city of Lockport has a mayoral appointed community-based police board, as designated in the city Charter since its inception in 1865. This board includes 4 residents and 1 council member for a total of 5 board members. The resident positions are four - year terms that are staggered for one appointment per year. At least one member must be of a different political affiliation. The council member serves for the two-year term of office.

REVIEW SUB-COMMITTEE

Although the police board qualifies for meeting the criteria of the governor's order, a sub-committee was appointed by the mayor for a comprehensive police review. The committee consists of the following stakeholders- City Representatives-Mary Pat Holz-Filbert, Civil Service/Personnel Director; Jason Cafarella, corporation counsel; Elected Officials- Michelle Roman, Mayor; Ellen Schratz , Alderwoman-At-Large and Kelly Vandemark, fourth ward alderwoman; Police Representatives- Chief Steven Abbott; Officer Kevin Lucinski, President of the union; Tricia Vosburgh, VP of the union; Combination of Police and Community- Mark Sanders Community Police Aid; Residents appointed to the police board-Commissioner Flora Hawkins, chairwoman and Commissioner Cheryl Brown; Resident volunteers from the human relations commission- Commissioner LauraLee Zagarrigo, chairwoman, Commissioner Felicia Grooms; Niagara County District Attorney representative- AD Ryan Parisi. The core group of the committee held committee meetings, as well as eight public forums and one formal survey to gather input with the community to guide the discussion and recommendations. Once a draft was created it was presented to the police board and common council with a formal public hearing prior to finalization.

Summary Discussion

Since January of 2019, the city of Lockport has made inroads in our policing policies, while cultivating a culture that allows for change and adjustments based on community and department needs. Continuous conversation between stakeholder and updates to policies will have a positive impact on the culture, especially improvement of trust and positive relationships within the department, its officers, and with our community at large.

Community Oversight:

Long before the governor's directive to have civilian input on policing, Lockport's city charter designates a mayor appointed civilian police board, as of its inception in 1865. This board consists of five commissioners: four residents and one council member. The resident positions are four - year terms that are staggered with one appointment per year with at least one member registered with a different political affiliation than the others. For the first time in its history, as of October 4, 2020 we now have three African American residents, of which two are women, serving on the five-person board. The council member serves for the two-year term of office.

The police board is tasked with hiring, firing, and discipline issues for the entirety of the department, including the police chief. The police chief handles day to day management of the department through policy compliance, scheduling, and community engagement, as well as minor disciplinary matters that result in no more than three days of suspension. The board handles all discipline matters that are more serious in nature that could result in more than three days of suspension, including the possibility of termination. The Police Board also deals with policies within the department. Budgeting matters for the department are controlled by the common council. The mayor's authority is limited to the appointing powers over the board. The mayor is not a voting member of the board. This is something this subcommittee will recommend for review. *See Appendix A

Although the police board qualifies for meeting the criteria of the governor's order, a sub-committee was appointed by the mayor for a comprehensive police review. The committee consists of the following stakeholders- City Representatives-Mary Pat Holz-Filbert, Civil Service/Personnel Director; Jason Cafarella, corporation counsel; Elected Officials- Michelle Roman, Mayor; Ellen Schratz, Alderwoman-At-Large and Kelly Vandemark, fourth ward alderwoman; Police Representatives- Chief Steven Abbott; Officer Kevin Lucinski, President of the union; Tricia Vosburgh, VP of the union; Combination of Police and Community- Mark Sanders Community Police Aid; Residents appointed to the police board-Commissioner Flora Hawkins, chairwoman and Commissioner Cheryl Brown; Resident volunteers from the human relations commission- Commissioner LauraLee Zagarrigo, chairwoman, Commissioner Felicia Grooms; Niagara County District Attorney representative- ADA Ryan Parisi. The core group of the committee held committee meetings, as well as eight public forums and one formal survey to gather input with the community to guide the discussion and recommendations.

In July of 2019, the Human Relations Commission was reinstated based on the city charter after it was left inactive for over twenty years and the charter even states it is not active. A Commission on Human Relations is hereby established by the City of Lockport in accordance with Article 12-D of the General Municipal Law, as enacted by Chapter 376 of the Laws of 1963. The human relations commission has nine members representing different cultures, ethnicity, sexual orientation, religions of our community. They are currently establishing rules, obtaining training from the state and other local governments on human rights. The commission is also setting up protocols for receiving public comments, interactions, and complaints, as well how to investigate them internally or report to higher authorities at the state level. The human relations commission is also tasked with education of various cultures and ethnicities within the community. The Human Relations Commission is another tool for residents to interact and build positive relationships with the municipality. Residents can report events that involve discrimination, including those involving interactions with the police department. * See Appendix B

The Board of Ethics is another layer in the charter for civilian oversight of the department. This three-person committee established by mayoral recommendation and common council appointment is an advisory board for officials and employees of the city. The Ethics board has the power to conduct hearings, determine violations, recommend disciplinary action, impose civil fines, refer any matter to a prosecutor or render advisory opinions, except as stated in § 18-19D(9). The City of Lockport will provide legal counsel, as necessary. This board can provide ethics training and education to City officers and employees on the provisions of the City Ethics Law and Article 18 of the General Municipal Law. The City Ethics Board may refer any matter within its jurisdiction to the County Ethics Board in its discretion. *See Appendix C

In addition to the City of Lockport Code of Ethics, which is monitored by the Board of Ethics, the police have an additional Code of Ethics as stated in the police policy manual: Officers Code of Ethics: Lockport Police Department Policy Manual Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2020/08/20, All Rights Reserved. I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all and will behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to me or to my agency. I will maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed both in my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty. I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, political beliefs, aspirations, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. Accreditation:

As of January 2019, we began the process of achieving re-accreditation, as this had previously expired. Currently the department is in the process of reviewing all policies and entering them into the Lexipol system. Lexipol is a system and service that reviews all policies and recommends adjustments based on national and state standards for policies. This process requires officers to frequently review the policies and sign off that they have knowledge and understanding of said policies. Accreditation also requires tracking and verification of the frequent training regarding various policies and procedures of the department. The union and municipality are working together to mitigate budget impacts of training through the agreement to have multiple training hours based on their shift schedules, instead of exclusively through overtime accumulations.

Policies Updated prior to review process:

Lexipol allows for easier access to the policies for not only the department and police board, but the community at large. Access includes the policies officers have read, as well as the trainings they have completed. The following is the LPD chief’s preface to the policy manual. Lockport Police Department Policy Manual Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2020/08/20, All Rights Reserved. Published with permission by Lockport Police Department - The primary duties and goals of all officers within the Lockport Police Department are the protection of life and property, impartial enforcement of the laws of the United States, State of New York and the Charter and Ordinances of the City of Lockport. Our success is predicated on our ability to serve our community. Effective service requires the trust, faith, and confidence of our community. Every member of the Department holds a special position of public trust. We must strive to never violate the public's confidence in us. At the core of every action, we take must be a desire to always do what is right. The Policy Manual is a resource for us to use in our daily service to the community. It provides guidance in reaching decisions, many of which surround difficult circumstances. The Policy Manual cannot possibly address every situation we will face but it forms a solid foundation from which we can draw. Policies, procedures, mission statements and priority statements exist to maintain high levels of professional conduct. Deviation from these written standards may be acceptable under certain circumstances but must be reasonable; and any actions taken must ultimately reflect the Department’s mission statement and priorities. To the extent that Department policy may contain provisions more restrictive than state or federal law, such provisions are not intended, nor may they be construed or applied to create a basis for liability against the City or any of its employees. The Policy Manual is never complete and remains a work in progress. It reflects our best current practices and the known case law that shapes our everyday decisions. Continual updating and redrafting will be necessary and will be an ongoing part of making our Policy Manual a living document. Every member of the Lockport Police Department is expected to participate in this process and is obligated to bring forward issues that may need to be modified. It is the responsibility of every member of this Department to know and understand the contents of this Policy Manual including updates, corrections, and revisions. The Policy Manual is available in hard and electronic versions that allow for easy access.

Body Cameras- The city of Lockport was one of the first police departments to include body cameras in its repertoire, but they were aging and unreliable. Officers had to share devices and were limited to usability. Due to financial constraints, as well as a limited battery power of no more than eight hours of service, the use of the cameras was limited to traffic stops only. The city's original policy for body cameras was to have them operational during traffic stops only. All other interactions with community could be optional if it were available. These cameras often did not engage, fell off during altercations, and experienced other issues that impaired the camera's viability. As of the fall of 2019, the city updated both the hardware, ability to store footage, as well as the policy regarding body cameras. Each police officer has been provided an updated camera that is more secure to the uniform and more consistently reliable than the previous versions. The cameras automatically upload to a storage system for review as needed. The department updated the body camera policy with the implementation of the new system. It has expanded from the previous policy of use only during traffic stops. The new body camera policy is engagement of the device initiated during any civilian interaction with an officer. The new devices are also equipped with the ability to turn on automatically as an officer's taser/gun is pulled, and car lights are engaged, and when a body camera is engaged, all officers in the vicinity will have their cameras engaged automatically, as well.

Continuum of Use of Force: The Lockport Police Department's continuum of force and training state that holds involving the head, neck, or spine, including choke holds are not recommended or permissible. The department has also added more non-lethal methods of detainment like bolo-wraps into the continuum of force. This directly addresses the goal to broaden the scope of tools an officer has at the ready will reduce the need for lethal force while interacting with civilians. The more tools at their disposal makes it safer for both the officer and the civilian. The department has begun a new program to track each officer's use of force efficiently and accurately. This program will allow the city to have reports that can be used to help in determining future needs, including training, in the department and in the community, as well as improve transparency on police interactions.

Crisis Intervention: Mental Health- 2019 the city of Lockport was the first municipal police department to begin the pilot program to incorporate live mental health support during responses by police. The department started with four units having tablets that were utilized to communicate with mental health providers. The department now has six per shift. Officers can use the tablet to have a direct link to a mental health professional to work through a situation to get the proper services in place for the community member in crisis. Officers were trained to identify when the service would be beneficial to a situation. Although, the service was not implemented that often during the pilot process, the tablets are being updated and continue the service. The department will work with the local health department to improve the use of the service, as well as improve training. The municipality is hoping this will continue to improve interactions with the police and the community while providing a valuable support resource to individuals and families.

Crisis Intervention: Domestic Violence- Through grant opportunities and the support of the county and state government partners, the city of Lockport Police Department has a domestic violence advocate working in the department. This support service is a partnership with our community YWCA, as well as our county district attorney's office to provide supports during and after situations resulting from domestic violence. The department also utilizes special investigators. The advocate works with individuals and families to provide support for housing, legal aid, and other resources.

Training: The city of Lockport has a negotiated agreement with the police union to use their thirty-two accumulated hours from their shifts for additional training without incurring overtime. Trainings currently include sexual harassment and diversity training, weapons training, et.

Diversity: The city of Lockport Police department has a chief of police, 48 sworn officers, and three civilian employees, plus a domestic violence advocate from partnership with YWCA, paid for through a grant. Currently, the department has 3 civilian staff- 2 white females (clerical), 1 black male (community police aid). There are 37 white male, 1 Hispanic male, 8 white female officers. Supervisory positions consist of 1 white male Captain, 1 white female Captain, 1 white male Detective Lieutenant, 8 white male Lieutenants, 1 white female Lieutenant, 2 white female detectives.

This committee believes it is vital that the department diversify as soon as possible. During this process, the municipality in partnership with the union, has actively recruited for people to sign up for a recent civil service examination. The union also offered support in preparing for taking the civil service examinations. The exam given in September of 2020 had 150 applicants. Although the number of minorities signing up to take the exam doubled from the last exam given, it is still under ten out of 150. Under the current civil service qualifications an applicant must complete 60 credit hours of education at time of hire. 18 credit hours are accumulated in the police training academy. Military experience can be substituted for up to 30 credit hours. Recommendations for expanding diversity in the department requires changes to civil service eligibility to allow other law enforcement experience, including expanding lateral transfer capabilities from other police departments with different civil service eligibility, county sheriff experience, state trooper experience, as well as correctional officer experience to be in lieu of partial college credit hours. This committee has concerns about the impacts and limitations of Civil Service Law that include requirements to hire from the top three, instead of from a top contingency of candidates, which could benefit from an expansion of the current banding of scores (for example currently all banding is within 5 points).

Community Relationships: The city in partnership with the police, fire, district attorney, and various community organizations has held multiple forums on Opioid addiction in addition to other forums since January 2019. The department has officer ambassadors work in partnership with the Lockport Dale Association developing positive relationships with community seniors. The department is involved with multiple youth programs, as well; the Junior Police Academy was re-established in the summer of 2019 in partnership with the Lockport Housing Authority for a summer program to build positive relationships between the police and the youth who are residents within the housing authority's various residential sites; the department in partnership with the Lockport City School District continues the GREAT (Gang Resistance Education) program for middle school students in grades 7-8; the department in partnership with Walmart, local business Lake Effect Ice Cream, local farm with horse and wagon rides, the Grigg-Lewis Foundation and the Optimist Club provide children in need with a day of holiday shopping with a police officer, gift wrapping, food, games, and fun. Police are developing relationships with students, including a police resource officer stationed primarily at the high school through collaboration with the Lockport City Schools. The police officers, including the canine unit, visit individual classes for reading and other events, as well. Partnership with the community organization Lockport New Beginnings, which provides resources and education to youth between 12-18 years of age is also designed to build these relationships. Officers speak to the group on various topics. Volunteer officers started playing basketball at the Friday night open gym events located at Emmett Belknap middle school, prior to the COVID pause, organized by community members and Lockport New Beginnings in partnership with the Lockport Masons. Officers are also encouraged to stop and interact with the local youth, as seen by them playing kickball, basketball, baseball, and football in the neighborhoods and area parks. The police also participate in community events at various locations throughout the year. The police chief meets frequently with residents to discuss concerns or gather input. Residents have requested a newsletter be sent to update them on events, ways to participate and communicate with the police and municipality.

Recommendations

This committee worked collaboratively with a wide range of stakeholders to identify best policing practices and offer recommendations on how those practices can promote effective crime reduction while building public trust. In this short period, the committee conducted eight public input sessions across the city and conducted a public survey on community policing. This committee's recommendations are based on a diverse range of voices through discussions with community and faith leaders, law enforcement officers, community members, and others. While much work remains to be done this experience has demonstrated to us that our community is committed to promoting a positive future. The recommendations included within will provide meaningful contributions to our city's efforts to increase trust between law enforcement and the communities they protect and serve.

Accountability and Oversight: Civilian oversight of the Lockport Police Department (LPD) has been in existence since the city was incorporated in 1865. Having the community residents involved in the oversight of the police department is a positive way to build trust, but the community is not aware of the role of the police board. The five-person board has complete oversight, as well as hiring, firing, and discipline powers. The mayor has no authority or voting status, other than appointing the members. The chief has no authority or voting status, other than recommendations. This committee is recommending a thorough review of the charter provisions regarding the police board. It is the recommendation of this committee that the potential to have the mayor and chief as voting members be considered, at the least. The most significant change could be the possibility of changing the board's capacity to only oversight and advisory, without powers to hire, fire, and discipline.

Civilian oversight was expanded by charter in 1963 with the inception of the Human Relations Board, which is tasked with hearing complaints of discriminatory treatment based on race, ethnicity, gender, age, sexual orientation, et. This includes complaints on members of the police force. The commission is also tasked with community education on these issues. The Human Relations Board was reinstated in 2019 after a 20-year hiatus. This committee recommends the human relations commission build a complaint process that is accessible to the public, including a process to report all complaints regarding the police to the city's compliance office (personnel director and/or corporation counsel). The committee also recommends they hold public forums on the diverse range of issues impacting the community. The final tier of civilian oversight within the city's charter is the Board of Ethics. As with the Human Relations Board, this board is tasked with taking complaints about the ethical conduct of the city officials and employees, including the police department. They are tasked with training on ethics, as well. It is this committee's recommendation that the Board of Ethics work on establishing a complaint process that is accessible by the public, including reporting any complaints related to the police to go directly to the city's compliance officers- the personnel director and corporation counsel. It also recommends they conduct open training sessions on ethics annually.

The results of the Community Policing Survey demonstrate the public's support for more accountability and oversight of the LPD. It is recommended by this committee that the city create a police compliance office designated like the Title IX officer for sexual harassment. In the case of the city, it is recommended to be the same officer(s) consisting of the personnel director and a member of corporation counsel. This will also address concerns by police officers who may wish to go outside the department to report any internal issues and concerns they may have. Currently, all police officers have a duty to intervene, if they witness another officer behaving in a way that is not becoming of an officer. This compliance office can be an outside resource for officers to report such activities regarding fellow officers. This is an added layer of oversight to build trust that it will be investigated independently. The compliance office will be the keeper of records of the complaints against police personnel that are received by the Police Board, Human Relations Commission, and the Board of Ethics, as well as those brought individually to the office. Those entities would be required to bring any charges they are aware of to the compliance office, who will then initiate an investigation using the appropriate procedures and resources dictated by the charges.

The LPD had let their accreditation fall lax several years ago. The department began the process to be re-accredited in 2019. It is the recommendation of this committee that this process continue to ensure a standard for accountability and oversight is followed at every level. The accreditation process and status of maintaining a positive rating allows for another layer of public trust. The policies are compliant with state and federal standards, as well as specific training procedures and schedules are followed. All policies and training records are well maintained throughout this process. It is recommended by this committee that the LPD utilize a program, currently Lexipol, that helps organize, review, and recommend policy and training updates. The LPD should also diversify the task of compliance of the accreditation process within the personnel of the department to avoid the loss of status that occurred previously.

The accreditation process reviews all policies of the LPD and recommends adjustments, as needed. This process started in 2019 and it is the recommendation of this committee that this continues. The current body camera policy with new, more reliable equipment support transparency, allowing for documentation of police interactions with the public. This allows for internal review, as well as by the public, as need arises. The use of force policy has always excluded choke holds and to avoid handling those in custody around the areas of the spine, neck, and head. The LPD has added the Bolo wrap into the continuum of force for another layer before needing or utilizing deadly force. Annual training on the use of force policy, including live practice and reality-based training of the procedures is recommended by this committee. Understanding best practices with restraints, training on restraints and the safety of those in custody needs to be done more often than just in academy. Peer intervention training helps officers act as a check on their fellow officers' misconduct, such as using excessive force.

Addressing accountability and oversight at the department level, the results of the Community Policing Survey demonstrate the public's support for the policy for having the direct supervisor review all charges at the time of booking. Peer intervention training instills the idea that officers have a duty to act as a check on their fellow officers' misconduct, such as using excessive force, planting evidence, or lying in any official reports. They are legally obligated, the training teaches, to stop an officer from committing an act of improper policing before it leads to firings, criminal charges, or death.

The current discipline policy gives oversight through the chain of command, with the chief having final say in discipline that may result in the suspension of up to three days. If the incident is more severe, the Police Board reviews the situation, including interviews with the officer(s) before deciding on a course of action. The discipline policy is also affected by the contract between the municipality and the police union. This committee recommends a thorough review of the discipline process and if changes are determined to be necessary, it needs to include all the stakeholders: The City, Police Board, Police Chief, and the Union.

Community Policing: The department's crisis intervention procedures include a mental health response. This entails utilizing outside resources, including the initiative keeping tablets in the patrol vehicles to access outside professionals in real time to address the needs of individuals in crisis. An oversight policy within the department for the shift supervisor to review of all charges at time of booking gives a measure of accountability to the arresting officer(s), as well as a sense of trust with the public. It is the recommendation of this committee to improve general policies within the department regarding mental health situations by input from professionals in the mental health field. This needs to be supported by more active training of personnel in mental health, including training and communications with the wrap around service providers and the tablet initiative support personnel. The public survey, as well as through comments at the public forums also request that the Lockport Professional Fire Department return to ambulance service, as they would often approach a mental health call from a medical standpoint. Their presence on the scene, as the lead agency often de-escalates the situation and allows for proper care and treatment of the individual(s) to occur without undo added stress. Due to the nature of policing and the perception of individuals in crisis, the presence of force may trigger more stressors. The recommendations of this committee are for more developed training of officers in mental health awareness, de-escalation, and appropriate restraints when needed should be done in collaboration with the Lockport Fire Department and county mental health agencies.

The department's second vital crisis intervention is the domestic violence response procedures and resources. As with the mental health response, it is critical to maintain the community resources with our local YWCA domestic violence advocate housed in the station. Working in conjunction with the county District Attorney's office, is also necessary. The police have been limited in some abilities to affect positive change due to restrictions and limitations imposed by the recent bail reform and discovery laws, but they work diligently with their partners to affect positive change for victims and offer counselors for abusers to help stop the cycle. It is the recommendation of this committee that strengthening the ties with the community agencies, increasing public awareness of the resources, and training on de-escalation and conflict resolution would be beneficial to improve the LPD response to domestic violence calls.

Training in individual areas and support specific policies has been addressed in previous sections. This committee, as well as the public input from both the forums and survey, believe training is a critical component to the success of building a more dynamic police force that is proactive and strengthens ties to the community it serves. This committee is recommending the LPD to implement consistent training in the following areas: implicit bias and cultural competencies, de-escalation, mental health awareness, communication skills, as well as situational awareness. Building situational awareness allows officers to identify the appropriate level on the use of force continuum for each interaction. This type of training demonstrates implementing the procedures of the use of force effectively. Communication skills are necessary to control situations, as well as to build relationships within the community. Both interpersonal and intrapersonal communication skills will help officers become more effective communicators, enhance problem-solving abilities, as well as develop empathy, introspection, and self-awareness. This committee is also recommending the police academy focus more time on community policing, de-escalation, mental health awareness, peer intervention training, restraints, unconscious bias, and the history of policing in the US and our communities.

The Police Chief recommends the following training regimen:

Proposed Training 76 hours of Training Union has 32 hours of payback for 36 patrol officers.

Addressing diversity; the community has expressed a need to have a more diverse police department that is reflective of the community it serves. This committee is recommending in addition to the training on cultural competencies and racial bias, that updates to the hiring practice be implemented. The LPD has women at varying capacities within the department, including promoting the first woman to the position of captain in 2020. The LPD recently hired a bilingual officer of Hispanic ethnicity, as well, but continues to lack cultural diversity within the department. In addressing some of these issues through the hiring practices, limitations from the Civil Service Law will impact the ability for some changes to take effect at the local level. This committee has concerns about the impacts and limitations to diversifying the department due to current Civil Service Law including requirements to hire from the top three candidates. It is the recommendation of this committee to ask the State Civil Service Commission to allow for hiring based on expanding the banding of scores beyond 5 points. This would expand the pool of qualified, eligible candidates to those who score an 85 or higher on the same band. The committee recommends requesting at the state level expanding lateral transfer capabilities from other departments with varying civil service eligibility, as well as from candidates outside the state of New York. This committee also recommends the Police Board and Civil Service Commission to expand eligibility through the process of updating the requirements for the position of police officer to allow other law enforcement experience like county sheriff experience, state trooper experience, as well as correctional officer experience to count towards some of the college credit requirements, like the armed forces credit. The recent efforts of the department, chief, union, and civil service office to actively recruit and promote the civil service exam for police officer needs to continue as regular practice. The positions need to be posted in local schools, veteran organizations, community organizations, churches, statewide communications, and other areas to expand the pool of candidates.

Transparency and Improved Communication: Improving the accessibility of information is key to establishing trust between the department and the community. The Police Board holds public meetings once a month. It is this committee's recommendation that the agendas and minutes continue to be shared on the city's website. Along with board documents, the ability to access the department policies and statistics would demonstrate an open policy of public transparency. It is this committee's recommendation to utilize the Lexipol system for sharing training, policy, and data information regarding the department. The chief is also required by charter to provide an annual report on the activities of the department. This has not occurred in the past few years; it is recommended that the chief resume this practice. The chief should present it to the police board, as well as the common council. Copies of the report should be made available to the public.

From the input of those residents who attended the community forums, as well as the participants on the survey, this committee recommends building positive relationships between officers and the residents. A focus on the youth to help foster respect and trust between both the community members and the police. The department has its only African American employee working as the community police aid. This position is designed to be a liaison between the community and the department. It is the recommendation of this committee to expand this role to support residents who want to restart neighborhood watch programs, mentor young people, and mediate issues as they arise. It is the recommendation of this department to encourage the officers to build their interpersonal skills, along with conflict resolution skills to help respond to various issues between residents. This committee recommends that officers continue to build relationships through their community outreach to all age levels, participating in community events, participating in stop and play when they see youth playing together, as well as the GREAT program and Junior Police Academy. The department should expand efforts into the schools and mentor groups that are interested in police science, first responders, and/or law enforcement; the school resource officer, police community aid, and police ambassadors in partnership with the local schools and community organizations will participate in clubs at the high school level. This will help promote positive relationships with the community and the police, as well as help in recruiting local students to pursue law enforcement as a career and expand our diversity in the future.

Throughout the discussions with the community, as well as responses on the survey, improved communication has been requested. In response to this the chief of police has implemented an app that allows residents to anonymously report crimes or concerns called STOPit. You can access it on Smart Phones with the access code singular to Lockport- LockportPDTips. Residents can download video, photos, and text messages directly to the police department. This is another link to the community, beyond their Facebook page, department link on the city website, as well as calling the direct line to the non-emergency line at (716) 433-7700. Residents also asked for a return to the neighborhood watch program with a partnership with the police department. The department is expanding opportunities for community meetings at the outbuilding of Altro Park, as well as exploring the app- Nextdoor- a virtual neighborhood watch program. Residents requested that a newsletter be mailed directly to the homes, as there are those who do not have access to the internet and cannot afford the paper. This committee recommends that a newsletter would benefit in expanding communication to all residents and help with the digital divide that occurs for some households. Opening the youth and recreation building at Altro park for two nights a week with our community police aide to hold community meetings, peer mediations, and youth activities would also strengthen community and police relations. Some of the open-ended responses and comments at the community forums also requested to have community education on police policies and what to do in certain situations. This committee recommends that community training sessions be implemented to discuss how to report crimes and what to do in certain circumstances that result in interactions with the police, like how to respond during a traffic stop.

End Note

While this report has focused on structural and procedural reform in our local law enforcement, it is important to point out that all our major institutions, including political, environmental, economic, educational, social and health care delivery systems and others work collaboratively to maintain the health and safety of our community. This report and the recommendations herein are the start of a continual conversation between our community and our police. Community policing works when we are all engaged in the open, honest, and sometimes painful dialogue and discourse to address the needs of our community and how the police can be a part of the solution.

“My brave, conscientious officers of the law, if you want people to trust you, don't use the phrase "police are your friends", for it only makes you sound authoritarian, egotistical and condescending - instead, remind them "police are humans too" - acknowledge your mistakes and work towards correcting them, so that you can truly become the Caretaker of People, which is the very definition of COP.”

Press Release Tuesday August 11, 2020:

The Subcommittee on Police Policy Review will be holding community forums in Lockport's neighborhood parks over the next several weeks. The newly formed subcommittee of 12 members, along with Mayor Michelle Roman, is charged with reviewing policing policies with local citizens, city government, and the Lockport Police Department. The goal of the forums is to gain direct feedback from the community.

The first of these forums will be held Tuesday, August 18th at 6:30pm at Rogers Park. Additional gatherings include Grossi Park on Thursday, August 20th at 6:30pm; Dolan Park on Saturday, August 22nd at 11am. Children's Park on Tuesday, August 25th at 6:30pm; William Street Park on Thursday, August 27th at 6:30pm; Outwater Park on Saturday, August 29th at 11am; Kibler Park on Tuesday, September 1st at 6:30pm; and, Altro (Willow) Park on Thursday, September 3rd at 6:30pm.

Additionally, a survey is being created that Mayor Roman says will help, "continue the conversation and update policies that will impact the culture and build trust and positive relationships within the department, its officers, and with the community at large."

The subcommittee's goal is to have a recommendation to present by the end of September or early in October for public input and review. The group would then present a recommendation to the Police Board and Common Council later in October or early in November.

The Subcommittee on Police Policy Review was formed after NYS legislation was passed earlier this year requiring local governments with police departments to form a review of policing policies with the community, legislative body, and police by November 2020, and have it take effect by April 1, 2021.

Additional thoughts or comments

Selected: 14

I am female & visible minority. Local police has racially profiled me on more than one occasion. I've lead community events connecting the Police, Fire Dept, MainStreet business and community with annual events. It works...event is free, open to everyone and raises everyone's profile, with cultural and social understanding. Let me know if you're interested. My family has had a business on Main St for over 70 years... we need more community events WITH Police, Fire, community services groups. M. Scirto

I think continued outreach in the community will strengthen relationships as well as having a mental health staff person for both officers and mental health calls

Having a majority of the police officers not living in the city they protect sends a negative message. I think the benefits far out way the negative of requiring them to reside in the city. I think additional public fundraising for the police officers to receive equipment and training should also be done. I think it is a silent majority that supports the officers and wants to help them during this very challenging time.

I wondering why they don't close down some of the parks because I feel leaving 3 biggest ones open and maybe putting in security cameras high off the ground I have a park in my backyard and I seen them put in brand new swing sets and picnic table and with in the first two days unsupervised children broke the swings and picnic table with so many children not being supervised by any adults they are out of control plus I know you have your hands full with more important issues but I would love something done about the cars speeding down thru hear its like the races they are not doing even close to the speed limit

They should communicate and talk to their neighbors more

In my opinion I think some officer don't use proper edicate when speaking to individuals. I think some forget the training that they have received. I think some of them have a lack of respect for their community as well and could care less and alike it is work and not their jobs. I think that these officer have a huge disconnect of why they are in uniform in the first place. Old saying goes dont try being a superhero or a cowboy it won't get you nowhere.

I strongly believe they should be more public forms between communities and police once a month. Mental Health and Implicit Bias training should be top priority prior to being hired and should be mandatory training every 6months. Transparency and Accountability for Troy Hodge.

Police need to interact with public at non police situations. Having lunch, coffee etc. Police should have residency requirement otherwise they are not part of community.

There needs to be educational programs to teach community members how to interact with police. Yes police need additional training but so should the public.

They need to treat people of every economic background with the same respect.

the survey does not ask any question on how the public can be educated in not resisting the police or wanting to contest their arrest on the street. everything cannot be the fault of the police

I have never seen the rubrics the city uses for LPD effectiveness. The police incident reports are not touted to be public knowledge, even if you can go request them as a FOIL request. They should be published and sent to houses like a newsletter. If there is special training going on make it known to the citizens, so that it shows good faith by the officers to become better. Lets lead by example.

I think it's really troubling to see crime rates, drug activity and violence continue to rise. People don't want to live in the city of Lockport due to high taxes and now there are safety concerns on top of it. Better policing is one aspect, in addition there should be targeted community programs. I don't think less policing is the answer, I think more but it also needs to be effective and combined with community efforts to really make noticeable improvements.

I feel as if it would be beneficial to utilize the department Facebook page to post incidents and reports to better inform the public and reduce the spread of false information.

Police Board - not sure of name - nominate some average Joes and Janes - need less political input and less input from those who feel they are owed something - regular people would improve the situation.

If an outgoing captain can't get people in trouble for abusing overtime (not to mention the people that suffered the arrests so an officer could pocket the extra bucks), then there is no hope for any kind of meaningful oversight.

Department is a mess needs a lot of work

unethical officers with unethical supervisors, a union that is a perversion of its intended purpose, and a city that is in the pocket of the union.

Too much dissension in the Lockport Police Department

The Lockport Police Department does the best job they can given the circumstances and the situations they are placed in daily. I do not feel that the Lockport city police Department has proper support from the mayor. I feel that we are catering to protesters and those committing crimes rather than focusing on the real issues within the city limits. Drugs, shootings and stabbing are happening far too often and officers hands are tied. If they attempt to do their jobs, they are called racist. A mayor who kneels with protesters and attends memorial services for an individual who put multiple officers lives in danger is not supporting the men and women who put their lives on the line.

The Lockport police department does best possible job given support and resources they have. I feel that lpd doesn't have proper support from mayor and city officials. I feel like city officials are playing into political propaganda and shining a bad light on our cities law enforcement officers and first responders in the process. In a time when we should be showing a sense of unity . Our public officials are showing a sign of suppression and kneeling in public to try to descultate a situation in which only makes it offer for our police force and first responders.

Fight the governor in releasing criminals and tying the hands of LEO's across the state.

I feel that the LPD has enough to do with keeping our city safe, and adding more duties; such as being mental health counselors should be left to professionals that deal with mental health issues. They should know when there is a need to call in a professional.

Train the officer that he is not judge jury and Communications "dispatch" should go to the sheriffs dispatch. 85 percent of 911 calls are cell phones. Serious delay, then being transferred to police dispatch, wasting serious time. The officers should be on the street. Every shift has two officers, are in city dispatch, 90000 dollars times two, three shifts a day. Use a phone at the window, we are a small city. I will discuss this any time anywhere. Pat Schrader

Police officers that take a life should be treated like any other civilian. Let them live by the 13th amendment

The Lockport police department need better tactical training on how to handle mental health response. Troy Hodge did not deserve to die. Whether his death was racially motivated or simply poor training, something should be done to justify why a good man died in the hands of this police department. Like wise, training on domestic violence cases should be enforced as well. The departments job is to protect and serve. In the past, I had not felt protected after reaching out for help. Victims of domestic violence should be taken seriously and protected at all costs. Thank you for your time!

Respect for all races and for people who haven't been convicted of crimes yet would really help

Training by other police officers (ie. sheriffs) is totally ineffective. In fact it has proved to be harmful. The officers can create their own bad habits. Get some officers from the 70s, 80, 90s who are retired but not dead. They were effective and respected police. Today I think car salesmen are more trusted and equipped to handle problems. BTW - Why do you work part time and get paid full time? The community is well-aware and think it sucks.

Need more officers patrolling the streets...crime has risen.

I don't think police need "more" or "better" training on how to avoid racial bias. I think they need to be held accountable when their actions demonstrate that the officer values the lives of certain people less than the lives of other people. In the business world, this accountability is called internal audit. You can't train your way out of this problem; you need to provide assurance that procedures will be followed, and that consequences will follow for officers who deviate. I know it's a lot more politically convenient to buy some educational content and declare victory, but that doesn't solve systemic problems.

LPD should focus on their main purpose, protecting the residents. Dispatch should be moved to the county facilities, as dispatch has changed over the years and the county facility is better equipped. This allows more officers available for policing our streets

The media is not releasing facts on the highly publicized police cases. We need MORE police in the community to keep us safe. In all of the cases the people involved were criminals or had a criminal history. If they did not put themselves in that position there was zero chance that they would've had an interaction with the police. Please do not play into the media hype, keep our police out on the streets, we need them! (Look at how the crime rates have increased in all cities where police were "defunded") Please put more police programs in schools to help ease any "false fears" that children are taught by their parents. Please do not change your tactics to please the loudest few. The majority of the citizens want the police to go home safe to their families every night and removing weapons and tactics will only give the criminals the advantage. I have lived in Lockport my entire life and crime seems to be slowing creeping up (as well as self entitlement), you risk losing all of your law abiding citizens if you cater to criminals and other people who believe "laws don't apply to them" for some reason. Thank you.

Definitely need a mental/behavioral health escort with EVERY mental health related call. I also believe tasers should be added to EVERY officers uniform as to reduce the need of deadly force

I am grateful for a chance to anonymously complain about the police. Yet at the same time I won't be surprised if I get a speeding ticket for driving 35 in a 30 in the near future.

Maybe stop releasing arrest reports to the Lockport Journal. Those things are easy to find on an internet search many, many years after they happen. Makes it kind of hard to apply for jobs. I have never seen the not guilty report sent to the paper.

I support other agencies responding to most 911 calls other than active shootings or taking reports of crimes after they happen. Police are overfunded and built to protect themselves and punish anyone that goes against the grain internally.

Better background checks should be done . Not just on the individual Applying for the position but on their families , past and current friends and current groups and activities they are involved in .

how can the city and nation get more qualified minorities to take police exam

Do you think if the city ever hires a black officer that the rest of the force will stop using the n word so much? Maybe. Or maybe they will keep using it to let the black officer know who is boss.

The political will to address the cultural differences in both the city and county is not there.

As a young female interested in a career in law enforcement, I have heard that in the City of Lockport you need to have sex with someone to get a job. I am wondering if the sex has to continue to keep the job. Does it have to be with multiple people? Do I have to have sex with the people who run the firearms test, fitness test, etc? It would be helpful to know these things before pursuing the job.

There should be a residency requirement for all LPD officers and supervisors

Random drug testing should be done. More training on racism and mental health

The law enforcement officials in Lockport are representative of the "white boy" mentality pervasive in this area. I don't believe there will ever be interest or will for meaningful change.

Lockport needs to change their bi laws for the hiring system. It's apparent they don't want black police officers just hire one already

Hire minorities

Institutional racism can be overcome. We need to do better.

hire more officers to reduce street crime, bail reform required

Our PD has does not at all look like the community they serve. Understanding different races might be easier if you hired them!

The police department lacks diversity as well as a caring attitude towards those with disabilities and people of color. The department does not reflect the diverse nature of the city. There seems to be an "us vs them" mentality. There is lack of love and feel for the community. Very rarely do see officers smiling and trying to build relationships within the community. The school district is full of cops even though we still have bomb threats and school shooting threats, so what exactly are they doing? They are not there to create a feeling of safety instead its a feeling of oppression.

No equality or justice is in this city or town. There's no fairness here and no diversity here and as a community were not taking it anymore. Were going to change things. We have a diverse community and our police department should have the same. Hire minorities and have a diverse workforce. We will not accept racism and discrimination and are standing up to it and holding those in leadership responsible.

No black officers in the history of the dept is absurd. Failure to terminate problem officers in a timely fashion inexcusable

Hire with diversity in mind

We do not have any POC in the LPD. We live in a city where 20% of the population are a person of color and there is no one on the force to reflect that. I would love to see data that shows people are applying for these jobs and they are just getting denied for whatever reason, instead of thinking it's a race issue.

This community needs diversity and minorities in the police department and all the government agencies that serves the community. It's disappointing that in 2020 you have never in the history of Lockport had any African Americans in the police force, in corrections etc. It's time for a change. We want change not just one but a diverse police department

I don't agree with the civil service requirements of only the top 3 candidates being interviewed. I feel STRONGLY that a more fair scoring system be used. For example - anyone scoring over an 85 or 90% should be interviewed. The persons ability to be an excellent representative of the community is not solely based on scoring in the top 3! I also believe that all test scores should be revealed with the persons name and an explanation of how the scoring is done and by whom.

Become NYS Certified. Become a diverse agency. The census as far as the different cultures within the City should be matched by the Dept. Stop the obvious nepotism.

LPD is primarily conservative right-wing white men with not only a bias but an immutable disrespect for minorities and the poor. They protect themselves from scrutiny internally and, like most PD, have likely committed crimes themselves under the protection of the brothers in blue. Policing should be dismantled and utterly restructured with more rigid qualifications including mental health exams and 4-year degrees in law.

We need officers of color and maybe some men and women that grew up in the community to help build these relationships. Housing incentive to live in certain areas of the city

As someone who grew up in Lockport and is now raising children here, I have seen the good and the bad. But this is from both sides. There are many members of my racial and neighborhood communities that have disrespected each other way too often and then use the police to blame for when they are forced to be accountable for their actions. It is disappointing that the department does not stand up and protect its own when we are in a world where everyone is against the police. Not to say they haven't maybe handled things a little different than I would at times, but I have never been in their shoes. I am not the one being called for every problem and having to openly face whatever comes my way that day. Your officers protect our city and community even when it hates on them and they deserve to have respect from their leadership and department. It is shameful that the chief and mayor do not feel they can defend their officers because they're too worried about social media. Your officers deserve that and you should acknowledge that your officers are part of our community. One of them has been involved with teaching my child at the school for GREAT and now he no longer is doing it. He worked so well with those kids and even coaches them in sports too. How is it that you are not promoting the connections of officers to community for the good. Being scared of public opinion should not stop you from proving what you have. I just wish you could have more officers who are willing to work with our youth, coaching them & teaching them and protecting them at night. He should be the one who is out there on the streets helping during these times

Hire a black officer and fire the jokers who killed Troy hodge.

Who ordered the riot squad to meet the peaceful protest of Troy Hodge's death? I am glad it was less confrontational the second time around.

Justice For Troy Hodge

I feel there needs to be change in the LPD. The four officers that were involved in Troy Hodges homicide. They need to be prosecuted and fired.

Police need to be held accountable for their actions. If they kill someone or are brutal to someone they need to pay and also need a lot more training on mental health issues

JUSTICE FOR TROY HAD WE WANT THE OFFICERS HELD ACCOUNTABLE FIRED AND CHARGED!!!!

I just want officers to be held accountable for their actions. There is a lot of things that have been hidden in the department that weren't addressed or officers were not held accountable. I also want to see the officers in Troy Hodges murder fired and indicted. Once that video comes out it's going to be mayhem if the department has not done anything to fix this problem. Our tax dollars should not be going to officers that are abusing their power!

As a wife of a police officer & many other family members in law enforcement, I have so much respect & gratitude for what they endure each day. Contrary to the LPD who brutally murdered Troy Hodge. No excuse, or justification what so ever! Heartbreaking to say the least. That did not have to happen! The department is an absolute disgrace, and needs reform from the top to the bottom.

Justice for Troy Hodge

I think the Lockport police dept employees need to be held accountable for the death of Troy hodge. I think more training is absolutely necessary for people with mental health issues. I believe some on the force may have good intentions but have no idea how to deal with someone with mental health issues. Also I would like to see some diversity within the dept itself. More training is definitely needed. Not all police are bad police,, but Troy's death was ruled a homicide and those involved should be prosecuted just like any other homicide case. Thank you.

Over the years police brutality has been gone way too far on the minority communities of people of color of any color ethnic background. Breonna Taylor was the prime example along with many more even one of these victims was a child who was innocent has died from the hands of men and women whom are taught to be racist and also some using this badge and gun to stop a race that's more powerful than them years blacks have roamed the earth longer than whites and sadly only differences between the ethnic backgrounds are due to diet and geographic change in weather and environment that caused color to change even then still black ethnic backgrounds are still superior. The system for years wants us to fail due to how smart and more we are to them. I have white ethnic black ethnic through my blood and I'm not gonna stop the fight for justice for all of the black women and men whom were killed by the hands of people who are suppose to protect and serve us plus the re training of these people and educate that we are not the messed up ones sadly the people who are messed up especially for the actions upon any blacks through out history and think this is ok it's not ok and should be held accountable for their wrongs and give back to us. Don't forget that the black Wall Street was burned to the ground by the whites whom were jealous that we were successful just like them. Remember don't let people lie about black history anymore cuz we help created this world so if anyone should take it away should be us but then what would that make us fucked up just like you so we show you that we don't act uncivilized but you whites do only those whom believe that blacks are a danger. But I'm not a dangerous person and I'm not an animal.

Murderers can get away with it because LPD doesn't know how to handle a murder !!!! Also a life was taken by the hands of the LPD, Troy Hodge. Holly Seiler was my mom she deserves justice. I could of died two weeks later I begged the DA and police department to keep a close eye on me because I felt like my brother was going to kill me, they said they couldn't. Then he almost killed me that same week! DA apologized after the fact but yet that doesn't solve anything. We need change for this community and change needs to happen now. This is a town that is run by a gang leader "money sex murder, 7" Solve the problems instead of sweeping them under the rug. This is absurd. Justice for my mom. Justice for Troy hodge.

Rip troy

Why hasn't the NYS AG Report been released? Who at city hall is preventing its release?

There must be accountability by the Lockport police department for the death of Troy Hodges.

I want to see accountability for the death of Troy hodge. When they receive a call for mental health they need to send out a counselor not the cops bc they only make the situation worse. The 4 cops that killed troy hodge should lose they jobs an apologize to the family. I want to see better training within the department. Would also like to see more black, Spanish cops on the force. End racism with these cops they should be asked certain questions b4 getting hired to see if they are racist. They did what they did to troy hodge but you got these lil want to be gangs going around shooting each other but you don't see them going to jail. They need to get them off the streets so our kids can go around n feel safe.

Justice for Troy Hodge.

Arrest the cops that killed Troy Hodge!!!!

The community has a hard time trusting the LPD. The four officers that killed Troy Hodge need to be held accountable. They are a liability to the force and until this matter is taken care of the community is going to be angry. There's good officers that are being judged because of the actions of those four officers. Do right by the family and the community and I believe that will bridge the gap. Stop sweeping things under the rug. The police test is also way harder than most tests with other forces.

Answer and transparency to the untimely death of troy hodge a year ago!! What is taking so long and how is the investigation going???? Someone needs to be held accountable!!!

We still have not seen justice for Troy Hodge, we will never stop waiting and until then fear that is and our children are next.

Justice for all families effected negatively by the LPD, especially Troy Hodge. This community needs change!

I feel the police department should be held Accountable for the death of Troy Hodge

There needs to be officers of color in the department. Mom the streets. The community as a whole would more likely comply if they had officers that looked like them. I believe that all of the officers need to be put through a rigorous psychiatric evaluation to determine their true intentions of wearing the badge. The officers that killed Troy Hodge are still on the streets. They are still collecting a paycheck. They are not behind bars where they should be. The people of this city are paying murderers to sit at a desk. Change the entire department!!!! SAY HER NAME #BREONNATAYLOR SAY HIS NAME #TROYHODGE

Lockport Police department NEEDS to have black officers on duty to serve its multi cultural biracial community and the Mayor should be in charge of hiring and firing. I feel like there is a faulty system that doesn't hire black officers on purpose. Lockport is a prejudice city. I also feel that without any questions the officers that were involved in Troy Hodge Homicide need to be held accountable. There are some very nice police officers and some really snaky ones, the snaky ones make the good ones look bad.

If it turns out that officers lied in their statements about the death of Troy Hodge, will they be fired? Probably not.

The silent majority supports the police! The city administration should as well. Do not succumb to a few loud mouths. Everyone knows that the officers involved in the Troy hodge incident did everything right and no one is looking for any officer to be held accountable. They are heroes.

I called to leave a tip and it was never followed up or taken seriously.

I wish they would patrol north transit and washington for all the car blowing the stop sign someone is going to get hurt

The LPD spent the summer saying they couldn't cite anyone for fireworks unless they saw them do it. They finally had an opportunity where they confiscated a lot of aerial mortars from a public park and instead they didn't give anyone a citation, the fireworks were never entered into evidence and a report wasn't filed. I've also had an officer pound on my door at 1:30am over lost dogs. We've had people tasered on our front lawn. Honestly we can't wait to move out of the city considering the LPD, and government leadership.

Need to patrol Georgia, Alanview, Lindhurst streets more especially at night. Lots of cars park overnight in street i know about that cop that blindly shot at the man who ran away from the hospital....

Known drug house on corner of Genesee and locust and nothing is ever done about it . Crack heads are even forming a line at times to get their stuff through the door .

A tale of two potential drunk driving arrests in Lockport: In one, an officer pulls someone over, the suspect is polite and cooperative with all requests. In the other, a passenger gets out of the car and immediately begins to accost the officer and name off all the LPD members she knows. Guess who gets off the hook? I mean, do they even confirm that the accused know these people? Or do we just have to list LPD staff to go free?

I am unlikely to call for an ambulance because the police also arrive. A medical issue does not require law enforcement presence

Fix the drug targeted areas. The zone is no better than it was. There is just as much drug dealing going on in the south street area as there always was.

Please stop allowing Lockport to become Niagara falls 2- make it more uncomfortable for all this trash to be here running down neighborhoods with disturbances, debris, drugs, and violence. Thanks

Having finding myself as well as other family members victims of a family member with drug and mental health issues, we have been left stranded after asking for help on several occasions. We are terrified. We are prisoners in our own homes. Constantly on the lookout. At this point in time, I don't have faith in the Lockport Police Department. It's sad, but so very true.

I've called the LPD multiple times in my life for a few different issues, theft, mediation between ourselves and neighbors. Majority of the time things aren't resolved at all. I've gotten to the point where we call them only as a last resort because they take forever to show up and usually do little to nothing at all.

I have been stopped many times by the Lockport police Dept for numerous things and never given a ticket or arrested. Because of the car I drove and time of day I was targeted. I believe your Department violates standards of probable cause and will intimidate to get answers they want. Proper training of public rights and how to speak to people should be enforced and encouraged. Also I work in Lockport but do not live in the city anymore.

I hesitate to call the police except in the most urgent of emergencies because I have not seen that "conflict resolution" is something that can really happen. Also, many of the officers I have encountered tend not to be approachable. I feel as if they act as if they are doing us a favor, but we, as citizens, are just asking them to do their jobs.

There is an on going issue with my neighbors. The LPD has been called over 10 times this summer with no resolution.

The police need to treat all people the same and stop abusing there power. They are a few nice police on the force that do their jobs but respect the people but there are a lot that are nasty to blacks for no reason at all other then they are black. The police here are so quick to jump out their cars and throw on their gloves and talk down to people which will cause people to get defensive which cause small things to turn into big things. STOP ABUSING YOUR POWER!!!

My personal experiences have been extremely subpar. I am not a criminal and never have and yet I've always been treated with disrespect. We are all humans. Stop acting above the law.

Think before you act it's not hard.

There is to much crime , for such a small city. Every on knows who is involved and has even seen videos of the lead monster brutally beating a man on Washburn st. Put him in prison!! And these other kids will have no one to follow!!

Do better

Lockport police stereotype individuals and do not like to press charges unless their supervisors make them. I can not say that an officer should need their supervisors approval on charges because I don't believe that the supervisors always push for charges when it is appropriate. Lockport police do nothing in Domestic Violence.

The focus towards solving actual problems should not be wavered towards easy ticketing and cheap banter

Utilize the other tools on your belt besides a gun. Less scare tactics... Stop speeding and blowing through stop signs. Use your turn signals.

Instead of arresting and convicting drug dealers and users, the LPD tends to turn them into informants. In doing so these people then ever are given treatment. Quit doing that, convict them! And there should be more police officers walking (and talking) the beat!! I would also like to see leather gloves BANNED. When police come they put on their gloves and immediately escalate a situation as it looks like they are expecting a fight.

Need more officers patrolling the streets...crime has risen.

LPD should be doing more to crack down on epidemic of speeders on the streets of Lockport. Much more traffic law enforcement is needed.....

They seem to disregard my numerous calls concerning speeding traffic on Walnut St. There are many little children in the neighborhood.

I am scared of interacting with police. I have had bad experiences with police in Lockport. I don't think they mean to be awful, but are humans too who let their own feelings and stressors put the public in danger.

I feel the city of lockport is a closed community, if your from here, people will be willing to help you, if your not from here, like myself, I feel your treated like a outsider and with the taxes i pay, everyone should be treated the same .

It's a rigged system. Above the law police. A judge who pledged to act as a prosecutor on the bench. A tiny jury pool. Local lawyers who are only interested in settling as opposed to fighting for your rights. When an arrest is made, it is like a conviction.

Is there a different way to search someone besides grabbing their nuts during an arrest? Because I am still traumatized by the officer that did that to me many years ago.

I would like to request that when making a drug possession or drunk driving arrest that the police make that arrest without any smug pomposity especially considering they often themselves commit those same crimes but will never face arrest (or if arrested, have the paperwork intentionally botched or whatever). Yeah I'm bitter but doesn't mean it is not true.

I have personally witnessed and also heard stories where the law does not apply to the police, friends of police, and related jobs such as firefighters. I believe the law should be applied equally. If the punishments are too harsh to hand out to friends and family, then maybe we need to rethink how the law is applied to the rest of us.

Several police officers look as though they would never pass a physical fitness nor agility test if offered. Perhaps this is why there are so many compensable injuries that are incurred during arrests, chases, etc.

As a white person when I was sheltered at home I thought there was nothing wrong with the police, as I have grown up I see I was very wrong. I fear when my significant other gets pulled over they might get killed because they are mixed. I fear that my own children will have to grow up and be taught how to act with the police since they too are mixed. I've went full blocks with a suv trailing me because my car is registered to a mixed black man

A family member was the victim of a horrifically violent assault and there was never any investigation that we were privy to. I had to go and beg in tears for someone to come and take a statement before the victim's jaw was wired shut. We were never contacted again about the case or heard anything about an investigation. Still bitter about our treatment.

I know that they plate read not worker and they need more police working one time I know they only have 3 police and one boss on the road and they had to call the sheriff in to help

With the interactions I have had with our officer have all been positive, however I have seen and know of others that have not been. I feel that this problem is not a local one but a national one. I feel there are things on both sides that could be done better. As a citizen I would like to see more interaction with the police not just as officer and person who has an issue, but as in stop and talk to each other. People are less likely to do harm to people they know.

All of my interactions with LPD have been positive and I always felt that my concerns were heard.

None at this time, thank you.

No

I feel at night not sitting in open areas like funeral home parking lot or old H.R parked with all these guns out in our cumminty they are sitting ducks that worries me a lot. I also notice when swat team sitting on Genessee st makes a very good statement maybe having them once in awhile move around near Washburn st & John st area I'm sure that will help keep the violence down need to make a strong statement out here letting those dealers and those who ate trying to make our neighbors territorial hoods few of them don't even live in our city let alone Ny State I've seen a lot I noticed when law enforcement is needed they our right on top of it and have issues under control fast . We need to keep our city safe i feel our Mayor is making a great impac and has made a big difference keep up the great work

Everyone should let the police do what they are hired to do. The job they have is to protect the citizens and stop the criminals. If you obey the law you won't have a problem.

We have had to utilize officers of LPD more than once and we were always treated with respect. With that being said, we have also seen them serve in a manner not so respectful. Where antagonizing happened more than de-escalating the situation.

the community supports lockport police! do not forget about the silent majority. we support cops and law and order. we support the cops that dealt with the troy hodge incident. its obvious he was high and had a mental health problem. train your officers better and support them when things like this happen its a tough job but someone has to do it and they do a good job

doing a great job

I pray for the safety of our police officers for they are a vital and necessary part of our community

If there had been an option to answer "not sure" on some of these, that's what I would have chosen. I've had very limited interaction with the LPD but they acted professional.

The Lockport police do an excellent job and do not require any significant changes.

I think that over all they have helped me on occasion- there are times that I have needed LPD's help personally and they are respectful. I have witnessed first hand situations where they have done as they were told by much higher up people as retribution. This was in the past- but the police force should be non-political at all times. Also I feel that when Lockport had the fire department running the ambulances the firemen had terrific control of mental health instances. Had the firemen been dispatched first Troy Hodge would still be alive today.

If you treat the Police with respect, they will treat you with the same. If act like a fool, you deserve the consequences of your actions. Lockport police are no different than any other police force

LPD is great. I have lots of friends who are police officers. I also love my city. We are living in terrible times. Between the racism movement, COVID, and anti police groups makes it tough. I would love to see more cultural training because there just needs to be for fair treatment. I damn well know our police officers mean well. I would also like to see 2 police officers or more dispatched to each call from now on if they aren't already. My biggest upset is the increase in drugs and shootings. Im looking to move out of the city. I am currently renting and am in the works of buying a home and I unfortunately dont think it will be within the city limits solely because of increased crime. I pray for our officers and i pray to see a day that they are respected the way they should be

I support the police and hope that we do not go down the path of cutting their funding or demonizing them in the pursuit of some perverse concept of justice.

I live in the Town of Lockport so interaction with city police has been more limited than if I were a city resident but I have never had a bad interaction with a city police officer

Criminals are always going to be criminals. If you dont do crimes then you dont have to worry about what the police are doing.

LPD officers have always been respectful and professional. I have a relative retired from law enforcement and I appreciate the dedication required for this job.

Just keep doing the great job you are doing.

I think the LPD is doing a fine job! Keep up the good work! One day I would like to join the LPD and serve my local community.
